

Presentation Schedule

Day	Surname	Given name	Presentation topic	Current Position	Field of study	Institution	Nationality	Country of Residence
So, 28.09.14 15.30-16.30	Lang	Bertram	The social psychology of corruption and its implications for law-making.	Master	Applied Political Science	Universität Freiburg, Institut d'Etudes Politiques d'Aix-en-Provence	German	Germany / France
	Köbis	Nils	Individual and Interpersonal Corruption Dilemmas – Exploring the social psychological consequences of different corruption situations	PhD	Organizational and Social Psychology	VU Free University in Amsterdam	German	Netherlands
	Luque Carreiro	Patricia	A behavioural-economical analysis of corrupt acts	PhD	Behavioral Science	Universidade de Brasilia	Brazilian	Brazil
Mo, 29.09.14 15.30-16.30	Epp	Lena	Moral Licensing and moral consistency in an economic laboratory experiment	PhD	Corporate Governance	University of Paderborn	German	Germany
	Chapkovskiy	Philipp	Conditional corruption: an experimental design	PhD	Political and Social Sciences	European University Institute in Florence	Russian	Italy
	Leszczynska	Nastassia	Corruption and Identity: a bribery experiment in Burundi	PhD	Economics and Statistics	ECARES, Université Libre de Bruxelles	Belgian	Belgium
Di, 30.09.14 10.30-11.50	Gawthorpe	Steven	An Empirical Analysis of Corruption in the Czech Republic Procurement Regime	PhD	Public and Social Policy	Charles University, Prague	American	Czech Republic
	Verma	Rajiv	Village outcastes, entitlements and the struggle against corruption: A case-study of Samajik Shodh Evam Vikas Kendra in rural Bihar, India	PhD	Agricultural Development	University of Hohenheim	Indian	Germany
	Böckmann	Alexander	Anti-corruption in the development cooperation context	PhD	Philosophy and Sociology	University of Vienna	German	Austria
Do, 02.10.14 16.45-18.05	Neselevska	Olga	To do or not to do business in highly corrupted countries: Consequences of "Anticorruption" Corporate Policies	PhD	Economics	Hanken School of Economics, Helsinki	Ukrainian	Finland
	Reed	Melanie	The Role of MNEs (Multinational Enterprises) in the Emerging Foreign Bribery Regime	PhD	International Relations	The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Medford, Massachusetts, USA / Chr. Michelsen Institute,	American	Norway
	Peskova	Dinara	Shadow economy: theoretical concept and methods of quantitative evaluation	Professor	Economics & Management	Bashkir Academy of Public Administration and Management, Ufa Russia	Russian	Russia
	Prabhakar	Krishna-murthy	Role of Good Governance Practices and Native Intelligence to Reduce Corruption in Truck Industry	Professor	Management	SRM University, Kattankolathur	Indian	India